This monograph is part of a larger investigation of trends and prospects in capital formation and financing made possible by a grant from the Life Insurance Association of America. The Association, of course, is not to be held responsible for statements made or views expressed.

RELATION OF THE DIRECTORS
TO THE WORK AND PUBLICATIONS
OF THE NATIONAL BUREAU OF ECONOMIC RESEARCH

1. The object of the National Bureau of Economic Research is to ascertain and to present to the public important economic facts and their interpretation in a scientific and impartial manner. The Board of Directors is charged with the responsibility of ensuring that the work of the National Bureau is carried on in strict conformity with this object.

2. To this end the Board of Directors shall appoint one or more Directors of Research.

3. The Director or Directors of Research shall submit to the members of the Board, or to its Executive Committee, for their formal adoption, all specific proposals concerning researches to be instituted.

4. No report shall be published until the Director or Directors of Research shall have submitted to the Board a summary drawing attention to the character of the data and their utilization in the report, the nature and treatment of the problems involved, the main conclusions, and such other information as in their opinion would serve to determine the suitability of the report for publication in accordance with the principles of the National Bureau.

5. A copy of any manuscript proposed for publication shall also be submitted to each member of the Board. For each manuscript to be so submitted a special committee shall be appointed by the President, or at his designation by the Executive Director, consisting of three Directors selected as nearly as may be one from each general division of the Board. The names of the special manuscript committee shall be stated to each Director when the summary and report described in paragraph (4) are sent to him. It shall be the duty of each member of the committee to read the manuscript. If each member of the special committee signifies his approval within thirty days, the manuscript may be published. If each member of the special committee has not signified his approval within thirty days of the transmittal of the report and manuscript, the Director of Research shall then notify each member of the Board, requesting approval or disapproval of publication, and thirty additional days shall be granted for this purpose. The manuscript shall then not be published unless at least a majority of the entire Board and a two-thirds majority of those members of the Board who shall have voted on the proposal within the time fixed for the receipt of votes on the publication proposed shall have approved.

6. No manuscript may be published, though approved by each member of the special committee, until forty-five days have elapsed from the transmittal of the summary and report. The interval is allowed for the receipt of any memorandum of dissent or reservation, together with a brief statement of his reasons, that any member may wish to express; and such memorandum of dissent or reservation shall be published with the manuscript if he so desires. Publication does not, however, imply that each member of the Board has read the manuscript, or that either members of the Board in general, or of the special committee, have passed upon its validity in every detail.

7. A copy of this resolution shall, unless otherwise determined by the Board, be printed in each copy of every National Bureau book.

(Resolution adopted October 25, 1926 and revised February 6, 1933 and February 24, 1941)

Acknowledgments

MY greatest indebtedness for assistance in the research reported here and in the preparation of this monograph is to Elizabeth Jenks. Without her painstaking, patient, and skillful handling of both major problems and minor details over a number of years, the work could not have been completed.

In the earlier stages of the study, Lillian Epstein rendered valuable assistance, and she also undertook the initial editing of the manuscript. The final editor was Margaret T. Edgar, who did a thoughtful and critical job. The charts were expertly drawn by H. Irving Forman.

The manuscript profited from review by the members of the National Bureau's reading committees, particularly Moses Abramovitz, Gary S. Becker, Melvin G. de Chazeau, Solomon Fabricant, and Raymond W. Goldsmith.

The monograph is largely the outcome of a cooperative enterprise, drawing upon the work of a number of scholars many of whom were responsible for the other monographs in the series. My obligation to them is great, and is certainly not fully acknowledged in the references to their work as cited in this volume.

Throughout the broad inquiry of which this volume is the last and summary monograph—and particularly in the early years—the Advisory Committee on the Study of Capital Formation and Financing gave generous and valuable help. The Committee was composed of Leo Wolman, Chairman; Sherwin C. Badger, Donald R. Belcher, Claude L. Benner, Percival F. Brundage, Arthur F. Burns, W. Braddock Hickman, Edgar M. Hoover, DeLong H. Monahan, and Geoffrey H. Moore.

I enjoyed and benefited by the cooperation and keen interest of James J. O'Leary of the Life Insurance Association of America, all during the years from the initiation of the study in 1950 to its completion here.

To all these co-workers, advisers, and friends I hereby express my sincere thanks.

SIMON KUZNETS
