RELATION OF THE DIRECTORS
TO THE WORK AND PUBLICATIONS
OF THE NATIONAL BUREAU OF ECONOMIC RESEARCH

1. The object of the National Bureau of Economic Research is to ascertain and to present to the public important economic facts and their interpretation in a scientific and impartial manner. The Board of Directors is charged with the responsibility of ensuring that the work of the National Bureau is carried on in strict conformity with this object.

2. To this end the Board of Directors shall appoint one or more Directors of Research.

3. The Director or Directors of Research shall submit to the members of the Board, or to its Executive Committee, for their formal adoption, all specific proposals concerning researches to be instituted.

4. No report shall be published until the Director or Directors of Research shall have submitted to the Board a summary drawing attention to the character of the data and their utilization in the report, the nature and treatment of the problems involved, the main conclusions and such other information as in their opinion would serve to determine the suitability of the report for publication in accordance with the principles of the National Bureau.

5. A copy of any manuscript proposed for publication shall also be submitted to each member of the Board. For each manuscript to be so submitted a special committee shall be appointed by the President, or at his designation by the Executive Director, consisting of three Directors selected as nearly as may be one from each general division of the Board. The names of the special manuscript committee shall be stated to each Director when the summary and report described in paragraph (4) are sent to him. It shall be the duty of each member of the committee to read the manuscript. If each member of the special committee signifies his approval within thirty days, the manuscript may be published. If each member of the special committee has not signified his approval within thirty days of the transmittal of the report and manuscript, the Director of Research shall then notify each member of the Board, requesting approval or disapproval of publication, and thirty additional days shall be granted for this purpose. The manuscript shall then not be published unless at least a majority of the entire Board and a two-thirds majority of those members of the Board who shall have voted on the proposal within the time fixed for the receipt of votes on the publication proposed shall have approved.

6. No manuscript may be published, though approved by each member of the special committee, until forty-five days have elapsed from the transmittal of the summary and report. The interval is allowed for the receipt of any memorandum of dissent or reservation, together with a brief statement of his reasons, that any member may wish to express; and such memorandum of dissent or reservation shall be published with the manuscript if he so desires. Publication does not, however, imply that each member of the Board has read the manuscript, or that either members of the Board in general, or of the special committee, have passed upon its validity in every detail.

7. A copy of this resolution shall, unless otherwise determined by the Board, be printed in each copy of every National Bureau book.

(Resolution adopted October 25, 1926 and revised February 6, 1933 and February 24, 1941)

AUTHOR'S ACKNOWLEDGEMENTS

My biggest debt is due Arthur F. Burns from whose unfailing encouragement and valuable advice I benefited immensely throughout my work. Special thanks go to Geoffrey H. Moore who contributed greatly to the substance and form of the study. Ragnar Nurkse's comments were especially helpful and highly appreciated. I am grateful for useful suggestions by Frederick C. Mills, Solomon Fabricant, and W. Braddock Hickman of the Research Staff; by G. A. Elliott, Frank W. Fetter, and Shepard Morgan, Directors of the National Bureau; and by Antonin Basch and J. Lynch of the International Bank.

I am obliged to Millard Hastay and the members of the Business Cycle unit for their help with the statistical analysis, to H. Irving Forman for his competent execution of the charts, and to Hanna Stern for making the index.

A grant from the Social Science Research Council which enabled me to do much of the research connected with this study is acknowledged with gratitude.

Deterioration in the Quality of Foreign Bonds Issued in the United States 1920-1930

By Ilse Mintz

National Bureau of Economic Research

Foreign Government Bonds Issued in the United States, by Geographic Areas, 1920-24 and 1925-29

Mrs. Mintz' study of American investment in foreign government bonds, begun under a field fellowship of the Social Science Research Council, "proved of such keen interest to the [National Bureau] staff that facilities were provided for an extension and completion of her investigation" (NBER Annual Report for 1949, p. 41).

As a crude measure of quality Mrs. Mintz uses the ratio of the amount of bonds issued in a given quarter that subsequently defaulted to the amount of all bonds issued in the quarter. The 1920's were the defaultless era in American foreign lending. The progressive deterioration in the quality of new loans did not become evident until severe depression set in. She concludes that since the factors commonly regarded as responsible for the widespread defaults on foreign bonds affected issues of earlier as much as those of later years, the upswing in American financial activity may be held responsible for this steep decline in loan quality.

Although foreign bond flotations increased hugely during the major upswing of the '20's
