PREFACE

The present volume has grown out of the appointment in 1924 by the Social Science Research Council of a Committee on the scientific aspects of human migration, a subject of great and growing interest in the United States upon which further studies supported by an adequate subvention were thought to be needed. Previous American work in this field has been done mainly through official channels which have necessarily influenced its character and conclusions, or through private associations, often of a propagandist tendency, or by single scholars whose time and resources were narrowly limited.

This Committee approved an initial project for a statistical study of international migration and entrusted its preparation to the National Bureau of Economic Research which asked the writer to organize and direct the enquiry. It has fallen into two parts: first, the preparation of the present volume containing international migration statistics from the beginning of the record in each country through 1924 and, secondly, the preparation of a series of interpretative studies of migration statistics written by scholars in different countries. Both volumes aim to be international and objective in dealing with a problem upon which judgments, national and individual, differ widely.

To further the project by enlisting international co-operation, the writer visited Geneva where he fortunately obtained the support of the International Labour Office. That Office through its Migration Section ably headed by Professor Louis Varlez had already done important pioneer work in improving current migration statistics. Under authorization of the peace treaties it had established or was in a position quickly to establish direct and cordial relations with the offices in all countries responsible for migration statistics past or present, a matter the importance of which persons familiar with the leisurely and circumlocutory way in which routine correspondence between governments is often handled will be quick to appreciate. The International Labour Office was thus in a favorable position to push its researches back into the pre-war period.

The preparation of this volume was entrusted to that Office under an agreement that the net cost should be borne by the National

PREFACE

Bureau of Economic Research. The office at the request of the writer placed Dr. Imre Ferenczi in immediate charge of the work. While he had been acting chief of the Migration Section he had prepared and brought out the report on "Mouvements Migratoires 1920-23" which by a fortunate coincidence came from the press on the very day on which the writer arrived in Geneva and the excellence of which immediately roused his admiration. Dr. Ferenczi is to be regarded as the author of this book and particularly of the Introduction and Notes; the relation of the undersigned to it has been that of adviser, editor and liaison agent between the National Bureau of Economic Research in New York and the International Labour Office in Geneva. In that capacity he has carefully followed its progress and is glad to commend the conscientious care and expert knowledge shown in its preparation. It is far more than a mere compilation of known and available migration statistics. Much material hitherto unknown has been disinterred and much energy, persistance and organizing ability have gone into its preparation within a period of ten months. Evidence to support this conclusion will be found throughout the volume but especially in Dr. Ferenczi's introduction and notes.

RESOLUTION

ON THE RELATION OF THE DIRECTORS TO THE ECONOMIC WORK OF THE BUREAU

- 1—The object of the Bureau is to ascertain and to present to the public important economic facts and the interpretation thereof in a scientific and impartial manner, free from bias and propaganda. The Board of Directors is charged with the responsibility of ensuring and guaranteeing to the public that the work of the Bureau is carried out in strict conformity with this object.
- 2—The Directors shall appoint one or more directors of research chosen upon considerations of integrity, ability, character, and freedom from prejudice, who shall undertake to conduct economic researches in conformity with the principles of the Bureau.
- 3—The director or directors of research shall submit to the members of the Board, or to its executive committee when such is constituted and to which authority has been delegated by the Board, proposals in respect to researches to be instituted; and no research shall be instituted without the approval of the Board, or of its executive committee.
- 4—Following approval by the Board, or its executive committee, of a research proposed, the director or directors of research shall as soon as possible submit to the members of the Board, by written communication, a statement of the principles to be pursued in the study of the problem and the methods to be employed; and the director or directors of research shall not proceed to investigate, study, and report in detail, until the plan so outlined has been approved by the board or the executive committee thereof.
- 5—Before the publication of the results of an inquiry the director or directors of research shall submit to the Board a synopsis of such results, drawing attention to the main conclusions reached, the major problems encountered and the solutions adopted, the nature of the sources from which the basic facts have been derived, and such other information as in their opinion shall have a material bearing on the validity of the conclusions and their suitability for publication in accordance with the principles of the Bureau.
- 6—A copy of any manuscript proposed to be published shall also be submitted to each member of the Board, and every member shall be entitled if publication be approved, to have published also a memorandum of any dissent or reservation he may express, together with a brief statement of his reasons therefore, should he so desire. The publication of a volume does not, however, imply that each member of the Board of Directors has read the manuscript and passed upon its validity in every detail.
- 7—The results of any inquiry shall not be published except with the approval of at least a majority of the entire Board and a two-thirds majority of all those members of the Board who shall have voted on the proposal within the time fixed for the receipt of votes on the publication proposed; such limit shall be 45 days from the date of the submission of the synopsis and manuscript of the proposed publication, except that the Board may extend the limit in its absolute discretion, and shall upon the request of any member extend the limit for a period not exceeding 30 days.
- 8—A copy of this memorandum shall, unless otherwise determined by the Board, be printed in each copy of every work published by the Bureau.

Adopted Oct. 25, 1926.
