
Subject Index

- Accrual formulas, 58–63
Accrual profiles, 63–68
Accrual ratios, 76–77; variance across industries, 80
Actuarial unfairness, in early retirement, 39–41, 65–66
AFL–CIO, 113, 114
Age: and pension coverage, 3, 25, 27–31; as pension eligibility requirement, 107; as variable in hazard model, 171
Aged: and disutility of work, 304; increase in retirement rates, 164–65; and labor force participation, 3–4, 10–11, 32, 124; life expectancy, 296–99
Age discrimination, 275–76, 313
Age Discrimination in Employment Act, 276, 339
Age restrictions, 275–76
Age-wage profiles, 69
American Express Company, 287
American Federation of Labor, See AFL–CIO
Antidiscrimination laws, 276, 339, 387
Assets, liquid, as variable in hazard model, 171

Bankruptcy, 353
Bargaining, 380
Benefit formulas, and worker behavior models, 254–59
Benefit levels, minimum, 269
Benefits: cafeteria plans, 15; death, 359–60, 377; disability, 148, 218; in early retirement, 65–66, 296; flat, 35; formulas, 4–6; fringe, 385; indexing of, 109, 262, 401, 409; relationship to prior earnings, 29; social security, 198; survivor, 218; and total compensation, 19. See also Disability benefits
Blue-collar workers, pension coverage for, 104
Brownian motion model, 174–80

Cafeteria plans, 15
Capital, human, 344
Children, effect on pension wealth, 144
City employees. See Government employees
Civil Service Retirement System: financial condition of, 408–13; growth rate of unfunded liability, 411; reform proposals, 413–28
Cliff vesting, 5
Collective bargaining, and pension benefits, 91–92
Company size, as factor in pension coverage, 3, 24–25
Congress of Industrial Organizations. See AFL–CIO
Consumption, lifetime, 334
Contracts, long-term, 381
Cost of living, and benefit indexing, 109, 262, 401, 409

Death, effect on pension plans, 361
Death benefits, 359–60, 377
Deferred retirement. See Retirement age

- Deferred wages. See Wages, deferred
- Defined benefit formulas, 4–6
- Defined benefit plans, 35–36; actuarial unfairness of, 285; and efficient allocation of resources, 259–64; enrollment rates, 4; integration with social security benefits, 4; as job-switching deterrent, 45–47; and labor participation, 15; reasons for choosing, 50–51; reduction of benefits for early retirement, 296; and unions, 105; vesting under, 43; widespread nature of, 262–64
- Defined contribution plans, 264–65; and high-wage workers, 281; vesting under, 43; for white-collar workers, 33
- Dependents: and likelihood of retirement, 172; as variable in hazard model, 171
- Disability, 361; uncertainty about, 376
- Disability benefits: as alternative source of funds, 148; effect of race on, 218
- Discrimination, 276, 339, 387
- Divorce, and likelihood of pension coverage, 137
- Early retirement, 4, 6–7, 39–41, 332–35; accrual ratios in plans, 76–77; and life span, 297; in manufacturing industries, 80; reduction of benefits in, 65–66, 296; in retail trade, 80; in service industries, 80; and social security benefits, 12. See also Retirement
- Earnings: profiles, and union pension plans, 110–13; as variable in hazard model, 171
- Economic status: and pension coverage, 3, 25; and pension receipt, 27–31
- Educational level: and likelihood of retirement, 172; and pension coverage, 3, 25, 136–37; and pension receipt, 27–31; and pension wealth, 144; as variable in hazard model, 171; and wage structures, 281
- Eligibility requirements: age, 275–76; for government pensions, 43; length of employment, 38, 269–72, 287–88; and unions, 107
- Employee Benefit Research Institute, 24
- Employee pension funds, union use of, 113–17
- Employee Retirement Income Security Act of 1974 (ERISA), 20, 42–43, 50, 117, 223; funding requirements for pension liabilities, 50
- Employee stock option plans, 33
- Employment: continuity of, 287–88; voluntary withdrawal from, 373
- Equity models, of labor market, 388
- Establishment size, and pension provisions, 97–98
- Experience, and wage structures, 281
- Federal Civil Service Retirement System, 12, 405–8, 434–36; commitments of, 399–400; unfunded liability of, 434–36. See also Government pensions
- Federal employees. See Government employees
- Females, and pension coverage, 25, 98, 136–37; and pension wealth, 144
- Finance industry, accrual ratios in, 80
- Financial Accounting Standards Board, 51
- Flat benefit plans, and inflation, 35
- Fringe benefits. See Benefits
- Government employees: and defined benefit plans, 4; pension coverage for, 2, 22–23; retirement behavior of, 11–12, 430; and social security, 23
- Government pensions, 155, 333; characteristics of, 401–2; eligibility requirements, 43; liabilities of, 399–400; and minimum service requirements, 38; normal cost of, 404; treatment of unfunded liability, 405–8; vesting provisions, 43
- Group pensions, 336–37
- Hazard model, 161–74, 182–83
- Health: effect on desired hours of work, 179; and likelihood of retirement, 171–72; as reason for retirement, 286; as variable in hazard model, 171
- Hierarchical models of labor market, 388–89
- Hiring practices, 56
- Human capital, and pension plans, 281
- Illness. See Disability benefits
- Income: inequality of, 29; and likelihood of pension coverage, 137; and pension wealth, 144
- Income taxes, pensions as method to avoid, 276
- Indexing, of pension benefits, 109, 262, 401, 409

- Inflation, 35–36, 336; and flat benefit plans, 35; indexing of benefits, 109, 262, 401, 409; job switching deterrents during, 45
- Insurance, 304–8; and wage deferral, 318
- Interest rate: and accrual profiles, 66–67; and pension plans, 358
- Internal Revenue Service, funding requirements for pension liabilities, 50
- Investments, of pension funds, 113–17
- Job change, 17, 361; cost of, 67–68; effect of pensions on, 7–9, 13, 14; effect on pension benefits, 80, 84; reasons for, 341–42
- Job lotteries, 228–47
- Job mobility, 56
- Job tenure, and unions, 93
- Job turnover, 42; and unions, 93; and wage structures, 230–47
- Journal of Labor Research*, 114
- Labor: disutility of, 286; marginal productivity of, 321; mobility of, 56; pensions as compensation for, 312
- Labor and Investment*, 114
- Labor compensation, pensions as, 223–25
- Labor contracts, and stockholders equity, 385
- Labor force, 10–13; older workers in, 3–4, 32, 124
- Labor market: economic models of, 381–87; long-term contract view of, 55; noneconomic models, 387–89; and pensions, 288–89, 312; spot contract view of, 55
- Labor participation, and defined benefit plans, 15
- Life-cycle consumption-saving model, 123
- Life-cycle earnings, 223
- Life expectancy, and retirement, 296–99
- Long-term contracts, 381
- Lottery structures, 228–33, 238–46
- Manufacturing: accrual ratios in, 80; early retirement in, 80
- Marital status: and likelihood of pension coverage, 136–37; and social security benefits, 197–98, 208, 212
- Market, spot, 381, 383
- Medicare, 200
- Middle-aged, preferred pension plans for, 374
- Military pension system, liabilities of, 399–400
- Minimum service requirements, 38
- Mobility: endogenous, 324–32, 348–52; exogenous, 322–24, 348–52; geographic, 341
- Mobility threats, 320–22, 345–48
- Models of labor market, 381–87
- Modigliani-Miller theorem, 19
- Mortality: rates, and early retirement, 297; and social security, 217, 218
- Municipal employees. See Government employees
- National debt, compared with unfunded liability of government pension systems, 400, 411
- OASDI. See Social security
- Old Age, Survivors, and Disability Insurance. See Social security
- Older workers, labor force participation of, 3–4, 10–11, 32, 124
- Paternalism, 155
- Pension benefits: indexed to inflation, 262, 401; present value of, and years of service, 277
- Pension costs, 379
- Pension coverage: and age, 3, 25; company size as factor in, 3, 24–25; determinants of, 10–13; and economic status, 3, 25; and educational level, 3, 25; and females, 25, 98; in government sector, 2, 22–23; growth in, 2, 20–22; historical origins of, 287–88; and race, 25; and sex, 25, 98; and state of residence, 155; and union status, 2–3, 23–24
- Pension formulas, 35
- Pension fund investments, 114–17
- Pension plans: merger of, 308–12; simulations, 359–78
- Pension receipt, 27–31
- Pension restrictions, 38, 275–76
- Pension rights, transferability of, 333
- Pension wealth: and educational level, 144; and effective wage, 31; effect of children on, 144; and income, 144; and marital status, 144; and women, 144
- Pooling, effects of, 308
- Portability, and union pension plans, 107–8
- Price level, and pension plans, 358
- Production, lifetime, 334

- Productivity: decreasing, as reason for retirement, 286; and wages, 285
- Professionals, and defined contribution plans, 33
- Profit-sharing plans, 33
- Qualification requirements, 38, 269–72, 275–76, 287–88
- Quit rates, and unions, 93. See also Job change; Turnover
- Race: effect on disability benefits, 218; effect on survivor benefits, 218; and pension coverage, 3, 25, 27–28, 136–37; and social security benefits, 198
- Rate of return, on pension assets, 403
- Restrictions: age, 275–76; services, 38, 269–72, 287–88
- Retail trade, accrual ratios in, 80
- Retirement: decisions about, 40–41, 284, 290–95; as expensive consumption item, 429; and life expectancy, 296–99; mandatory, increases in age of, 308; and pensions, 37–38, 289–95; postponed, costs of, 301–3; reasons for, 286–87; and social security, 160–61. See also Early retirement
- Retirement age, continued work past, 7
- Retirement behavior, 284; and economic efficiency, 14
- Retirement benefits, as incentive to continue working, 7. See also Benefits
- Retirement decisions, effect of benefit provisions on, 40–41
- Risk, in pension plans, 358, 368–70; spreading of, with pensions, 290
- Savings: forced, 155; home value as part of, 295; pensions as tax-free form of, 276; and retirement, 291
- Schooling. See Educational level
- Selective survival, effect on pension studies, 153
- Self-employment, 154; and likelihood of pension coverage, 142
- Self-selection devices, 231–32, 235–38, 247
- Service industries, early retirement in, 80
- Service length, as pension eligibility requirement, 38, 107, 269–72
- Severance pay, accrued pension benefits as, 57
- Sex: and pension coverage, 25, 98, 136–37; and pension differences, 308–9; and pension wealth, 144
- Sickness. See Disability benefits
- Social security, 22–23; and early retirement, 12; earnings test, 39; effect on desired hours of work, 179; effect on labor force, 32; effect on retirement probability, 160–61; and government employees, 23; integration with defined benefit plans, 4; and likelihood of pension coverage, 136–37; and likelihood of retirement, 171; and mortality, 217, 218; projections, 194–212; and race, 198; transfer element, 194; and two-earner-couple discrimination, 198; as variable in hazard model, 167–68
- Social security offset plans, accrual ratios in, 79
- Spot market, 381, 383
- State of residence, and pension coverage, 155
- Stockholders' equity, and labor contracts, 385
- Stock option plans, 33
- Survivor benefits, effect of race on, 218
- Taxes: benefits from pensions, 276, 289; and pension coverage, 155
- Teamsters Union, 115
- Thriftiness, public, 440
- Trade unions. See Unions
- Turnover, 56, 230–38; and defined benefit plans, 45–47; and unions, 93. See also Job change
- Unions: causal effects on pension coverage, 101; and defined benefit plans, 105; and earnings profiles, 110–13; effect of pension on loyalty to, 288; effect on pension coverage, 10–11, 23–24; effect on pension provisions, 90–110; and fringe benefits, 385; and job tenure, 93; and job turnover, 93; and pension eligibility requirements, 107; and pension variables, 154; and portability provisions of pension plans, 107–8; and quit rates, 93; use of employee pension funds, 113–17; and vesting requirements, 107
- Vesting, 43–46, 265–68, 359; cliff, 5; defined benefit plans compared with defined contribution plans, 43; under ERISA, 43; in government plans, 43; and union plans, 107

- Wage, effective, and pension wealth, 31
- Wage growth, nominal, and accrual profiles, 66
- Wage inflation, 7
- Wage-pension combinations, 276
- Wage rate, 33, 68–74, 273–74
- Wages: deferred, 317–20; impact on pensions compared with unions, 96–99; and productivity in later years, 285; relative, 387; and worker perceptions of pension effects, 256–57
- Wage structures: optimal, 225–28; reward for experience, 281; reward for schooling, 281; and turnover, 230–38
- Wage-tenure profiles, 73–74
- White-collar workers: and defined contribution plans, 33; pension coverage for, 104
- Widows, social security benefits of, 195, 196
- Women: and likelihood of pension coverage, 25, 98, 136–37; and pension wealth, 144
- Work, disutility of, 304
- Workers, perceptions of pension wage effects, 256–57
- Work force, covered by pensions, 2
- Work incentives, 7, 415, 426–28
- Work time, constraints on, 272–73
- Years of service, effect on present value of benefits, 277
- Young workers, preferred pension plans for, 374