Dear Azam:

I am writing to invite you to participate in the 2019 National Bureau of Economic Research (NBER) Development Economics Summer Institute meeting. The meeting brings together some of the best scientists in the world working on issues revolving around the economics of developing nations to describe and discuss recent important advances in the field. We expect to have about 100 participants.

You are also welcome to attend the other Summer Institute Meetings that are happening that week after the conclusion of the Development Economics meetings; these other meetings continue through July 26.

We would be delighted if you are able to join us. I understand your expenses will be covered by Lahore School of Economics. The meeting will be held from July 21 through July 23, 2019, in Cambridge, Massachusetts. The program for the meeting will be available in May.

Please let me know if you have any questions.

Sincerely,

Rob Shannon
Assistant Director, Conference
