

Mistra's Trade and Environment programme - ENTWINED - seeks PhD candidates

Mistra is a research foundation that supports environmental research aimed at solving strategic environmental problems. Mistra is currently financing a research programme on Trade and Environment and as part of this effort has allocated 3 MSEK for a PhD position that will be incorporated into the ENTWINED programme.

We are seeking candidates from your institution who, with Mistra's funding, would either be starting a PhD programme of study in 2008 or be finished their course programme and be starting their own research. The funding will cover between 2 and 4 years of study at your organisation as well as 1 year at the Swedish Foreign Ministry's International Trade Unit in Stockholm, Sweden - to be finalised once the funds have been awarded. The position must be closely integrated with ENTWINED and a mentor from ENTWINED will be assigned to the student however your organisation will also be required to provide a supervisor. The successful candidate will:

- Be a qualified and eligible, or current, PhD student at your department within a relevant field of social sciences;
- Have an expressed interest in environmental policy, international relations, international law, economics, or similar;
- Include maximum one page describing their research interests;
- Speak and write fluent English;
- Start in 2008;

Qualified women and members of minority groups are encouraged to apply.
The deadline for submission of applications is 4 April 2008.
