RESEARCH PROFESSIONAL

Professor Constantine Yannelis is looking for a highly skilled and motivated individual to work as a full-time research assistant for a period of at least one year. The preferred start date is July 1, 2018 although we are willing to accommodate an earlier or later start. The application deadline is rolling, but the first round of decisions will be made on February 19.

The job will entail close collaboration on a number of new and ongoing projects in finance. Previous holders of this position at Chicago Booth have gone on to Ph.D. programs at Harvard, MIT, Princeton, and the University of Chicago.

If interested, please fill out this online survey: <https://goo.gl/forms/lGokcarjkPcK2bDu1>.

The ideal candidate will have (i) a strong quantitative background, (ii) strong computer skills including programming, (iii) the ability to work independently to solve problems, and (iv) a long-term interest in pursuing research in economics. Background in economics is a plus, but not necessary—candidates with strong technical backgrounds who are looking for more exposure to economics are welcome. Booth pays an annual salary of $48,000 and provides standard benefits such as health insurance.

Please also complete a formal application at <https://goo.gl/a39SBf>. When you do, please upload a CV, cover letter, and all post-secondary transcripts. Unofficial transcripts are acceptable.
