Relation of the Directors to the Work and Publications of the National Bureau of Economic Research

1. The object of the NBER is to ascertain and present to the economics profession, and to the public more generally, important economic facts and their interpretation in a scientific manner without policy recommendations. The Board of Directors is charged with the responsibility of ensuring that the work of the NBER is carried on in strict conformity with this object.

2. The President shall establish an internal review process to ensure that book manuscripts proposed for publication DO NOT contain policy recommendations. This shall apply both to the proceedings of conferences and to manuscripts by a single author or by one or more co-authors but shall not apply to authors of comments at NBER conferences who are not NBER affiliates.

3. No book manuscript reporting research shall be published by the NBER until the President has sent to each member of the Board a notice that a manuscript is recommended for publication and that in the President’s opinion it is suitable for publication in accordance with the above principles of the NBER. Such notification will include a table of contents and an abstract or summary of the manuscript’s content, a list of contributors if applicable, and a response form for use by Directors who desire a copy of the manuscript for review. Each manuscript shall contain a summary drawing attention to the nature and treatment of the problem studied and the main conclusions reached.

4. No volume shall be published until forty-five days have elapsed from the above notification of intention to publish it. During this period a copy shall be sent to any Director requesting it, and if any Director objects to publication on the grounds that the manuscript contains policy recommendations, the objection will be presented to the author(s) or editor(s). In case of dispute, all members of the Board shall be notified, and the President shall appoint an ad hoc committee of the Board to decide the matter; thirty days additional shall be granted for this purpose.

5. The President shall present annually to the Board a report describing the internal manuscript review process, any objections made by Directors before publication or by anyone after publication, any disputes about such matters, and how they were handled.

6. Publications of the NBER issued for informational purposes concerning the work of the Bureau, or issued to inform the public of the activities at the Bureau, including but not limited to the NBER Digest and Reporter, shall be consistent with the object stated in paragraph 1. They shall contain a specific disclaimer noting that they have not passed through the review procedures required in this resolution. The Executive Committee of the Board is charged with the review of all such publications from time to time.

7. NBER working papers and manuscripts distributed on the Bureau’s web site are not deemed to be publications for the purpose of this resolution, but they shall be consistent with the object stated in paragraph 1. Working papers shall contain a specific disclaimer noting that they have not passed through the review procedures required in this resolution. The NBER’s web site shall contain a similar disclaimer. The President shall establish an internal review process to ensure that the working papers and the web site do not contain policy recommendations, and shall report annually to the Board on this process and any concerns raised in connection with it.

8. Unless otherwise determined by the Board or exempted by the terms of paragraphs 6 and 7, a copy of this resolution shall be printed in each NBER publication as described in paragraph 2 above.

We would like to acknowledge our debts to a number of people who contributed to the development and publication of this book. Early versions of many of the chapters in this volume were presented at a Universities-Research Conference on Housing and Mortgage Markets in Historical Perspective held in Cambridge, Massachusetts, on September 23–24, 2011. The National Bureau of Economic Research sponsored and provided the funding for the conference. We owe special thanks to Jim Poterba and Claudia Goldin for their enthusiasm and encouragement as we developed the idea for the conference. They insisted that we should publish this volume and have been very generous in their support.

The discussants of the papers at the conference were Gary Richardson, Susan Wachter, Shawn Kantor, Ed Glaeser, Jim Kau, Andra Ghent, Kris Mitchener, and David Wheelock. Their presented and written comments offered valuable insights that helped to greatly improve the revisions of the papers and our editorial suggestions. In addition, there were a number of other scholars at the conference who contributed to the conversations about the papers. We also thank the anonymous reviewers of the book proposal who provided valuable guidance for organizing the book, as well as useful comments to the authors.

We are most thankful for the help of the NBER’s conference staff—Carl Beck, Rob Shannon, Lita Kimble, and Brett Maranjian—who organized a seamless conference. Most importantly and notably among the other NBER staff, we thank Helena Fitz-Patrick for her many patient hours of editing and formatting the manuscript. We would also like to thank our editor at the University of Chicago Press, Joe Jackson, for ably siring us through the publication process.
