Since this volume is a record of conference proceedings, it has been exempted from the rules governing critical review of manuscripts by the Board of Directors of the National Bureau (resolution adopted 6 July 1948, as revised 21 November 1949 and 20 April 1968).

To the memory of Walsh McDermott, M.D.

His knowledge, wisdom, and deep understanding of the multiple determinants of health benefited us all through the illumination of both policy and practice.

Acknowledgments

The Second NBER Conference on Health Economics, and the preparation of this volume, were supported by a grant from The Robert Wood Johnson Foundation to the NBER for research in health economics. This support is gratefully acknowledged. The opinions expressed herein are those of the authors and do not necessarily reflect the views of The Robert Wood Johnson Foundation.

Many people assisted in the planning and execution of the conference and in the preparation of this volume for publication. I would particularly like to express my appreciation to Alan Garber, who served as conference rapporteur and editorial assistant, to Kenneth Arrow, who was general discussant at the conference and who delivered informal remarks on health economics at the conference dinner, and to Claire Gilchrist, who did an outstanding job as conference coordinator.
