Acknowledgments

The research papers collected in this volume were presented at a joint Japan Center for Economic Research (JCER)–National Bureau of Economic Research (NBER) conference in January 1991. We are grateful to Yutaka Kosai, president of JCER, and Martin Feldstein, president of NBER, for laying the groundwork for such joint meetings. They also provided important guidance in shaping the agenda for this conference.

Organizing a conference with participants from two continents is not a simple task, and the staff at JCER and NBER provided outstanding logistical support for our meeting. We are particularly grateful to Ilana Hardesty of NBER, who attended the conference and served as conference coordinator, and to Hiromichi Mutoh and Professor Seiritsu Ogura of JCER for very able assistance. We also wish to thank Kirsten Davis, director of the NBER Conference Department, for ongoing help in planning and organizing the meeting.

After a conference, the real work of publishing the proceedings begins. We wish to thank Deborah Kiernan and Jane Konkel of the NBER and Kumiko Mizutani of the JCER for their help in preparing this volume for publication.
