Relation of the Directors to the Work and Publications of the National Bureau of Economic Research

1. The object of the National Bureau of Economic Research is to ascertain and to present to the public important economic facts and their interpretation in a scientific and impartial manner. The Board of Directors is charged with the responsibility of ensuring that the work of the National Bureau is carried on in strict conformity with this object.

2. The President of the National Bureau shall submit to the Board of Directors, or to its Executive Committee, for their formal adoption all specific proposals for research to be instituted.

3. No research report shall be published by the National Bureau until the President has sent each member of the Board a notice that a manuscript is recommended for publication and that in the President's opinion it is suitable for publication in accordance with the principles of the National Bureau. Such notification will include an abstract or summary of the manuscript's content and a response form for use by those Directors who desire a copy of the manuscript for review. Each manuscript shall contain a summary drawing attention to the nature and treatment of the problem studied, the character of the data and their utilization in the report, and the main conclusions reached.

4. For each manuscript so submitted, a special committee of the Directors (including Directors Emeriti) shall be appointed by majority agreement of the President and Vice Presidents (or by the Executive Committee in case of inability to decide on the part of the President and Vice Presidents), consisting of three Directors selected as nearly as may be one from each general division of the Board. The names of the special manuscript committee shall be stated to each Director when notice of the proposed publication is submitted to him. It shall be the duty of each member of the special manuscript committee to read the manuscript. If each member of the manuscript committee signifies his approval within thirty days of the transmittal of the manuscript, the report may be published. If at the end of that period any member of the manuscript committee withholds his approval, the President shall then notify each member of the Board, requesting approval or disapproval of publication, and thirty days additional shall be granted for this purpose. The manuscript shall then not be published unless at least a majority of the entire Board who shall have voted on the proposal within the time fixed for the receipt of votes shall have approved.

5. No manuscript may be published, though approved by each member of the special manuscript committee, until forty-five days have elapsed from the transmittal of the report in manuscript form. The interval is allowed for the receipt of any memorandum of dissent or reservation, together with a brief statement of his reasons, that any member may wish to express; and such memorandum of dissent or reservation shall be published with the manuscript if he so desires. Publication does not, however, imply that each member of the Board has read the manuscript, or that either members of the Board in general or the special committee have passed on its validity in every detail.

6. Publications of the National Bureau issued for informational purposes concerning the work of the Bureau and its staff, or issued to inform the public of activities of Bureau staff, and volumes issued as a result of various conferences involving the National Bureau shall contain a specific disclaimer noting that such publication has not passed through the normal review procedures required in this resolution. The Executive Committee of the Board is charged with review of all such publications from time to time to ensure that they do not take on the character of formal research reports of the National Bureau, requiring formal Board approval.

7. Unless otherwise determined by the Board or exempted by the terms of paragraph 6, a copy of this resolution shall be printed in each National Bureau publication.
(Resolution adopted October 25, 1926, as revised through September 30, 1974)

Acknowledgments

This volume results from numerous discussions among the principal participants of this project—David Lane, Sherman Maisel, David Pyle, Barr Rosenberg, William Sharpe, and the late Paul Cootner—on the methods of applying modern theories of finance to problems of measuring risk in financial institutions. Each of us had spent considerable time and effort working on related problems. The National Bureau of Economic Research, with its long history of research on financial institutions and risk measurement, furnished a receptive environment in which to develop our ideas. The project was aided and support for research was provided by a grant to the National Bureau of Economic Research from the National Science Foundation (no. APR76-02511). The views contained in this volume do not necessarily reflect those of the National Science Foundation.

We were later joined in our efforts by Roger Craine, Larry Golen, Laurie Goodman, Robert Jacobson, J. Huston McCulloch, Jay Morrison, Stephen Nadauld, Philip Perry, and James Pierce, in discussions, in research, and in writing this volume. Significant contributions were made by a dedicated group of research assistants, including Melvin Jameson, Robert Marks, Henry Moore, and Thomas Mroz. Claire Gilchrist did an excellent job in typing many manuscripts and shepherding this volume through many preliminary versions.

We received significant aid in data, computer time, and criticism from the staffs of the Board of Governors of the Federal Reserve System; the Federal Reserve Banks of San Francisco and New York; the Comptroller of the Currency; and the Federal Deposit Insurance Corporation. Laurence Rosenberg, program officer at the National Science Foundation, was particularly helpful with sage advice at various times during the project.

We are indebted to our Advisory Committee, each of whom contributed time, effort, and useful ideas:

Dr. George T. Conklin, Jr., chairman of the board, Guardian Life Insurance Company of America, New York City

Dr. Robert Einzig, vice-president, Planning, Transamerica, San Francisco

Mr. John Heimann, Comptroller of the Currency, Washington, D.C.

Mr. Albert J. Hettinger, Jr., partner, Lazard Freres and Co., New York City

Dr. Donald Kaplan, director, Office of Economic Research Federal Home Loan Bank Board, Washington, D.C.

Dr. Henry Kaufman, partner, Salomon Brothers, New York City

Mr. Harry Keefe, president, Keefe, Bruyette and Woods, New York City

Dr. William Longbrake, director of research, Federal Deposit Insurance Corporation, Washington, D.C.

Dr. James J. O'Leary, vice-chairman, United States Trust Company of New York, New York City

Governor Charles Partee, Board of Governors of the Federal Reserve System, Washington, D.C.

Mr. Leland Prussia, vice-chairman, Bank of America, San Francisco

Mr. Carl Reichart, president, Wells Fargo Bank, San Francisco.

Mr. Charles S. Sanford, Jr., executive vice-president, Bankers Trust Company, New York City

Dr. Kenneth M. Wright, vice-president and chief economist, American Life Insurance Association, Washington, D.C.

While the project was a collaborative one, primary credit and responsibility for the work in each chapter rests with those whose names are attached to it.
