Acknowledgments

This volume is the result of a conference held by the National Bureau of Economic Research in Cambridge, Massachusetts, on 16–17 March 1990. The conference was part of the Bureau's Trade Relations Project. I would like to thank Kirsten Foss Davis and Ilana Hardesty of the NBER for the efficient manner in which they handled the conference arrangements and Jane Konkel of the NBER for ensuring that the papers and comments were in the appropriate form for submission to the University of Chicago Press. The editorial staff of the University of Chicago Press, particularly Julie McCarthy, has been very helpful in facilitating the publication of this volume.

Funding for the Trade Relations Project has been provided by the Ford Foundation. All involved with the conference are especially thankful for the encouragement and guidance provided by Tom Trebat of the Ford Foundation.
